With reference to the attached enquiry on Fu Shing Tai, a communist agent, who is understood to have had close connections with the Chinese Communist regime in Kiangsi and previously with the Wuhan Group, I have to report that a thorough search of the police files at Headquarters fail to reveal any record of this individual, nor does this name appear in connection with the publication entitled the "Shanghai Courier" in the years 1927/1928.

According to information at hand, there was a certain individual by the surname of Fu (full name and pseudonyms unavailable) who was closely connected with the Chinese Communist regime in Kiangsi and previously with Borodin et al in Wuhan, but no further particulars can be obtained.

Is there any reason of this individual who is understood to have had close connections with the Chinese Communist party in Hong Kong and particularly with TONGLIN and the Labour Group. He may have been connected with the " Shen Lei Counter " in the years 1947/1948.
